V. Reasoned statement under Article 35(2) with regard to novelty, inventive step or industrial applicability; citations and explanations supporting such statement

1. Statement

Novelty (N)	Claims	1-13	YES
	Claims		NO
Inventive step (IS)	Claims	1-13	YES
	Claims		NO
Industrial applicability (IA)	Claims	1-13	YES
	Claims		NO

2. Citations and explanations

1. Reference is made to the following document:

D1: US-A-4 696 908 (D.H. GUTTER ET AL) 29 September 1987 (1987-09-29)

2. The subject matter of claim 1 is novel (PCT Article 33(2)) and involves an inventive step (PCT Article 33(3)).

a. Document D1 is regarded as the closest prior art.

b. D1 discloses (see figures 1 to 3) a contacting arrangement, from which the subject matter of claim 1 differs in that:

"... the contact part is in the form of a cable grip and a toothed ring is formed by edges of the cable grip that are curved inwards in a radial direction, the edge teeth of the toothed ring forming the contact elements and the toothed ring having catches that are curved inwards in a radial direction between the edge teeth for centering the cable grip when in the fitted position..."

- c. The present invention can therefore be considered to address the problem of ensuring that the cable grip can be centered with respect to the cable when in the fitted position. This problem is solved, inter alia, by the catches on the toothed ring disposed between the edge teeth.
- d. The solution proposed in claim 1 of the present application can be considered inventive (PCT Article 33(3)), since it is neither disclosed nor suggested by any of the searched documents.
- 3. Claims 2 to 13 are dependent on claim 1 and therefore likewise meet the requirements of PCT Article 33(1) in respect of novelty (PCT Article 33(2)) and inventive step (PCT Article 33(3)).
- 4. The subject matter of claims 1 to 13 is industrially applicable (PCT Article 33(4)).
- 5. Document D1 should have been mentioned in the description.
